What's New at Ames Services
February 6, 2009
For Immediate Release

Josephine C. Ames, Chairman and C.E.O and Bill Ames C.O.O recently attended the 2009 BSCAI (Building Service's Contractor's Association International) CEO seminar in Los Cabos, Mexico.

This three day event touched on issues such as business growth strategies, key trends in politics and economics as well as essential determinants of success for companies large or small. Keynote speakers included Dean Rosson, President of Fit2Win, and Dan Wertenberg, President of Wertenberg & Associates, discussing transforming companies to improve productivity and lower health care costs. Bill Ames serves on the Board of Directors of BSCAI and attended a board meeting on January 21, 2009.

While in Mexico and California, Josephine Ames was involved in purchasing unique home décor and furniture items for Main Street Classics and The Annex. These items will be arriving for the grand opening in April 2009.

Josephine along with Mark Cheyney, President, and Nichole Menzel, General Manager, will also be attending the 2009 BSCAI Annual Convention and Trade show in Chicago from March 6- 9th.

This event will bring together over more than a thousand of building service contractors from across the United States. The key features of this seminar will include addressing important issues facing today's contractors as well as targeted educational sessions complete with cutting edge products and services.
